Visual Art Alive and Well at the Festival

Local Visual Artist - Quincy St Kitts Goes to Paris!

Newmarket, July 27, 2015

2015 TD-Newmarket jazz+ Festival showcases a dozen local Artists this year in our Visual Artists Village.

We are pleased to announce one of our 2015 Visual Artists, Quincy St. Kitts will exhibit his works at Art en Capital at the Grand Palais des Champs Elysees in Paris, France this November. He was chosen as an exhibitor by La Société des Artistes Indépendants, 2015 Society of Independent Artists. Quincy's art will be exhibited from November 24 – 29th, 2015 at the Champs Elysees location. View his art at the festival and at <http://quincmsk.deviantart.com/>

Other notable artists include: Tiffany Folmeg, a sculptor, printmaker and photographer from Newmarket. Tiffany is creating a life-sized stone/wood representation of human skeleton and organs – for display in public medical setting. The Hartman Gallery & Venue will feature four local visual artists at their tent. Exceptional artists like Ana Wood, Mary Moganelli, Judy Horan, Olena Lopatina, David Rankine and Les Luxemburger will display fabulous paintings, mandalas and prints. There will be interactive art so you can join in the creative fun – Community Mandala, Painting Opportunities and more! Please visit, enjoy and purchase local art to keep our arts/culture and heritage alive in York Region!

Join us at Riverwalk Commons, 200 Doug Duncan Drive, Newmarket on Friday July 31st at 5:30pm until Monday August 3rd at 8pm for a fabulous, grass roots festival filled with art, music, dance, characters, food vendors, beer and wine gardens, Teen Chill Lounge, Creative Zone for the kids and more.

The 2015 TD-NJF supports the North Newmarket Lions – Lions Quest and the Future Aces Org.
